

Pleasant Valley Orchard
Professional Photography Policy

We love that Pleasant Valley Orchard is a beautiful spot and that it is a wonderful location to take your special photos, whether they be wedding, engagement, or family sessions. Because of our experience over the last twenty-five years and the growing number of professional photographers who use our location as a backdrop for their sessions, we developed this policy to provide guidance to you and privacy for us.

We ask that all professional photographers check in with us before scheduling sessions with your clients. That avoids awkward moments when we have to track you down and ask what it is you're doing and/or inform you that you need permission or its after hours and you need to leave. We would deeply appreciate it if you would work with us moving forward.

We define professional posed photography as photography of individuals such as wedding, engagement, family portraits, senior portraits, or the like. This includes wedding portraits, candid wedding shots and family photos.

This policy also includes amateur photographers acting in the role of a professional photographer.

When conducting photo sessions, we ask that you respect our farm and our crops. There may be areas that are off limits during growing season and in the fall this means no picking of apples without permission.

We would love to be tagged in your photos on social media.

Professional photography sessions during the growing season are limited and are by appointment only. Photographer is responsible for the safety and welfare of client while at Pleasant Valley Orchard.

Request your appointment with Judy by emailing info@pleasantvalleyorchard.com

No permission, no photography, no exceptions.

November, December, January – August.
